RESUME OF SECOND WEEK'S PROCEEDINGS OF HANCOCK COUNTY CHANCERY COURT, JUDGE GRIFFITH, PRESIDING

Spring term of Chancery Court for Hancock county adjourned Thursday afternoon. Judge Griffith practically rendered the State a clean slate. Every case on the docket was considered and several matters of years' standing, where estates remained unsettled, etc., final consideration was given and the cases closed and administrators, trustees, guardians and others whose time had expired finally discharged. Matters of years' standing on the docket were finally disposed of.

To The Echo Judge Griffith stated that he could not see the necessity of matters resting on the docket and carried from term to term without being settled. In the matter of estates and other interests he said many of the litigants would either die or move away in the meantime and when the time came for final reckoning these parties could not be had and more complications and delay followed. As a result there had been considerable losses of fees and causes have suffered.

The result of the court in the handling of cases of current interest is as follows, presented in tabloid form:

2500—Grant L. Wickton vs. Alex. Faye, Horace Bloomfield appointed master.
2537—Exparte Eddie Favre et als. decree dissolving Kiln Drug Co.
1902—Estate of Woodrow McQueen, by Frank McQueen, Jr., guardian cited to court and discharged, ordered to pay over funds within sixty days. Leo W. Seals qualifies as guardian.
2540—Exparte E. Van Whitfield et

als. decree committing Charlie Redmond to Industrial Training School at Columbus, Miss.

1823—Estate Loretta Douglas, by W. C. Douglas, guardian, citation dismissed and first annual account filed.

DIVORCES.

L. B. Charlton vs. Anna L. Charlton cause dismissed.

Esther Smith vs. Eugene Smith, cause remanded to rules to be tried next term.

Isabelle Irwin vs. John J. Irwin, decree of divorce granted.

Alice Broadnax vs. Charley Broadnax, decree of divorce granted.

Venetia Flax vs. Will Flax, cause dismissed without prejudice and new bill filed.

Isom Flax vs. Mary Flax, cause dismissed without prejudice.

Christine Carter vs. Louis J. Carter, decree of divorce granted.

Malvina Staton vs. Orange Staton, decree of divorce granted.

Virginia Haas vs. Renaldo Haas, decree of divorce granted.

ALIMONY.

Cecile Benoit vs. Elliot Benoit, decree granting alimony pendente litigant and attorney's fees.

Sylvester Ladner vs. Mrs. Gex Ladner, decree granting alimony pendente litigant, amount of $69.39 per month.

DIVORCE.

Andrew Duclos vs. Anna C. Duclos, dismissed on account of complainant not being ready for trial.

Carrie D. Saucier vs. P. V. Saucier, cause dismissed without prejudice and new bill to be filed.

his brother lawyers and of laymen. Later he practiced in New Orleans, where he took high rank at that bar, and still later located at Gulfport, where he has been practicing for a number of years. He is recognized as one of the ablest lawyers at the bar, as a man of exceptionally high character, with the courage of his convictions. He has presided over several terms of court as special judge and those who practiced before him do not hesitate to express the opinion that as a presiding officer he had few superiors. Indeed, the late J. L. Ford, who was one of the leading lawyers at this bar, said of Judge Dodds that he had never practiced before any judge who presided with more dignity and fairness or who disposed of business with more dispatch than did Judge Dodds. He was prompt and firm in his ruling and always treated the attorneys at the bar with courtesy and respect and thereby received the respect of the attorneys without demanding it.

His supporters among the lawyers, of whom he has a great number, are emphatic in their views to the effect that if elected he will give to the district an administration which will rank favorably with that of the very best judges the district has ever had.

His candidacy is commended to the people of this district.

Well Known Gulfport Lawyer Announces His Candidacy for the Circuit Bench of This Judicial District.

Gulfport Daily Herald, Friday, May 26, 1922.

The name of Judge George S. Dodds has been repeatedly mentioned in connection with the Circuit Judge of this District by persons from every walk of life since the time for nomination has begun to draw near, and yielding to the importunities of his friends he on yesterday announced that he would stand for the nomination.

Judge Dodds was born in Copiah county, Mississippi, and practiced law at Hazlehurst for a number of years, where he stood among the leaders of his profession; and where he established a reputation as a lawyer of ability and character, ranking among the very foremost leaders of the bar, and commanding the respect both of

LOCAL K. C. BUREAU SHOWS TWO MONTHS' WORK OF ACTIVITY

Report For April and May As Submitted by Mrs. M. C. Gager, Local Executive Secretary, As Made to Pere Leduc Council, Knights of Columbus—Relief Secured For Ex-Servicemen and Dependents Is Considerable—Local Office Is of Much Benefit.

LOCAL OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED FROM JUNE 1 TO JUNE 19.

Executive Secretary Will Be Absent. Office To Be Opened Again On Her Return—The Work Accomplished Embraces All Branches of Relief and Many Have Taken Advantage and Benefited Thereby—Knights of Columbus and Mrs. Gager Make the Work Possible.

The report for months of April and May of Mrs. M. C. Gager, executive secretary of the local Knights of Columbus Bureau, for service and ex-servicemen, as conducted at the courthouse for Bay St. Louis and all of Hancock county, shows a continuation of the active and splendid work carried out by the organization. The United States Government gives the relief, but through this office all activities are directed. No individual could carry out the functions of the office. Mrs. Gager is acquainted with the methods of securing the relief, what the government gives, how to apply for it and how to get it, and what can be had. It is a great work and our service and ex-service men and their relatives have embraced the advantages thus offered and have vastly benefited thereby.

The Echo wishes to call the attention of all concerned that the local bureau is closed until June 19th inst. Mrs. Gager has gone to Cincinnati, Ohio, on a visit, and will not be home until then. Parties interested will govern themselves accordingly.

The report for April and May follows:

Bay St. Louis, Miss., June 1, 1922. Knights of Columbus, Pere Leduc Council, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Through the kind co-operation of Rev. Father Gmelch we have placed one gentleman in the Little Sisters of the Poor home in New Orleans, Father Carra himself going with us to place this man.

We have had at the U. S. Marine Hospital No. 14, in New Orleans: Monroe Leo Ladner, Peter Roux, Kir-

BAY ST. LOUIS HAS NEW CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

The Paul Morphy Shop of New Orleans Has Established a Branch at the Bay St. Louis Tea Room—Miss Jennie Hunter in Charge—Library Open Today and Ready for Public Use—Any Book Not in Stock and Wanted Can Be Had on Notice at No Additional Charge.

A circulating library of new fiction has recently been started here. The library is a branch of the Paul Morphy Book Shop, Inc., at 419 Royal street, New Orleans.

This branch at the Bay will be in the Tea Room, where, under the kind assistance of Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Clem By Penrose, shelves have been made in the large adjoining room, and the books installed.

Miss Jennie Hunter will be the librarian. The library will be open in the morning from 9 until 10 and in the afternoon from 4 to 6.

The charge for the library will be one dollar initiation fee and ten cents for each book taken out. This is a very minimum charge, as all the books cost two dollars or one-seventy-five at the least.

Miss Lydia Belden, of New Orleans, who, with Mrs. Rosalie Nixon, runs the Paul Morphy Book Shop, came over to the Bay Friday morning to bring the books. There is a fine selection and a great variety of titles. One can get the latest reading matter, whatever their taste; detective stories and adventure tales, simple romances, problem stories, society novels, short stories, no difference; just tell Miss Hunter where your taste lies and get the book right off the shelf. Just think of the fun you can have for a dime!

Remember this library is for everybody. "He who runs may read." Well, here's your chance. And all the latest books.

The library opened Saturday, with a nice number joining. But we want everyone to know that the library is here in the Bay. Miss Belden says she wants everyone in the surrounding country to come and join, too. It is their library as well.

Another good piece of news, Miss Hunter said yesterday, that Miss Belden was going to send new books all the time, just as fast as they are published and as fast as the readers here want them. And also that if there were any novels the members want to read, just let Miss Hunter know and she will write Miss Belden and get the book.

Now don't forget about the Circulating Library; all the new fiction for ten cents a book; at the Tea Room. Hours 9—10 a. m. and 4—6 p. m.

—Miss Lydia Belden, of New Orleans, assistant manager of the Paul Morphy Book Shop, Inc., was in town a few days as the guest of Mrs. Clem B. Penrose. Miss Belden came to start the circulating library that will be at the Tea Room, in charge of Miss Hunter.

Mrs. Alice Herring, one of our clients, died at Gulfport, while on a visit to her son, who is in training there, her home being Kiln, Miss. This death necessitates the changing of the beneficiaries of insurance, as Mrs. Herring had a son to lose his life in the late war, she receiving the insurance. This will be evenly divided among her heirs.

Office expense, for the past two months was paid by Willie Green, Lakeshore, Miss.; Jesse Dott, Kiln, Miss.; Marks Oliver, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Mr. Lawrence Ketchum, who was a trainee here, has secured a government position with the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Tony Shifalo was a recent visitor from Pascagoula training center. Mr. Shifalo was offered the position of instructor in the electricity department there, but rejected it as he wished to continue his studies as electrical engineer at that place.

Mr. Edward L. Murtigh, trainee at Tulane University, has been chosen as president of the class of architectural design for the coming year.

It is indeed gratifying to know that our men are profiting by their opportunities being granted by the government.

The office of the K. of C. Bureau will be closed from June 1st to June 19th, as I will be in Cincinnati, Ohio, the first vacation since 1917. Immediately upon my return will be at office to attend all cases.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. M. C. GAGER, Executive Secretary.

LOCAL BAR INDORSES JUDGE V. A. GRIFFITH FOR RE-ELECTION

Local Chancery Judge Receives the Unqualified Indorsement of the Hancock County Bar As An Appreciation of the Sacrifice Made by Him in Accepting Chancellorship of Local District—Has Forgotten All Self Interest for the Public Good.

HAS BROUGHT HONOR TO POSITION OF CHANCELLOR.

Bar Association of Hancock County Recognizes in the Honorable A. V. Griffith a Public Servant Who Has Sacrificed His Own Personal Welfare For the Public Good—A Most Worthy Compliment Paid to a Distinguished Member of the Bench.

A most worthy compliment has been paid to a deserving member of the bench. At a meeting of the Hancock County Bar Association, of which Hon. W. J. Gex is president and Hon. Carl Marshall secretary, complimentary resolutions were unanimously adopted endorsing Hon. V. A. Griffith, judge of the local chancery court, for his past record and also as an endorsement for his re-election to the position this year, primary election to be held in August.

The resolutions featured the fact that Judge Griffith has sacrificed personal interests for the public good. He has made one of the best judges in the history of the court. His services are thorough and his every effort is given to the trust. He has sacrificed a wide and lucrative practice to serve the position demanding so much and which pays comparatively little for a man of his talents and ability. The district has been especially fortunate, and, as the resolution says, "He has brought honor to the position of chancellor, rather than having been honored by it."

The Echo publishes the resolutions in full and as follows:

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE HANCOCK COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION.

We, the Hancock County Bar Association, being constituted of every lawyer in Hancock county, and every member of the association being present, do hereby adopt the following resolution:

Whereas, we recognize and are highly appreciative of the sacrifice made by the Honorable V. A. Griffith, in accepting the chancellorship of this district, in doing which we know that he has forgotten self interest, in the public good, and

Whereas, we feel that in his sacrifice he has brought honor to the position of chancellor, rather than having been honored by it, and

Whereas, we appreciate not only his great ability and his fidelity to duty, but his painstaking effort in the discharge of his duty, and

Whereas, we have learned with satisfaction and delight that he has agreed to give four more years of his valuable services to this district;

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved, by this Bar Association of Hancock county, all of its members participating in this resolution, and that we recognize in the Honorable V. A. Griffith a public servant who has sacrificed his own personal welfare for the public good, and that we endorse his course of conduct in the discharge of his duty, and most heartily endorse his candidacy for re-election, and further hereby extend to him our hearty appreciation of the able and conscientious manner in which he has discharged his every duty.

Be it further resolved, that this resolution might remain as everlasting monument to our appreciation as hereinabove set out, that the chancellor be requested to spread this resolution on the minutes of the Chancery Court of Hancock county, and that this resolution be filed and remain among the archives of this court.

Adopted this 1st day of June, 1922.

HANCOCK BAR ASSOCIATION.

By W. J. GEX, President.

Attested:

By CARL MARSHALL, Secretary.

MAY POLE DANCE AT ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY.

Festival of May Beautifully Danced Little Miss Leonore Gilbert Was Crowned "Queen of May"—Sixteen Little Misses Danced Gracefully and With Success—St. Stanislaus Band in Attendance—Affair Was For Benefit of Institution.

A beautiful May pole festival was danced Saturday afternoon of last week on the grounds of St. Joseph's Academy, the affair being given under the auspices of the ladies of St. Joseph's Auxiliary, for the benefit of the building fund of the convent.

There was a splendid attendance, a tribute to the popularity of the organization under which the affair was given and of the cause as well, and all who attended were duly rewarded for their presence.

The dancers were in costume and combined with their graceful movements and youthful beauty the combination was very beautiful.

The feature of the evening was the crowning of the queen, and the May pole dance, which was danced by sixteen of the bright pupils of St. Joseph's Academy. Several selections were rendered by the St. Stanislaus College Band, and the song by the children, "Hail, Thee, Our Beautiful Queen," was sung when the queen and her court proceeded to the throne which formed a beautiful scene, with the numerous little flower girls, followed by the maids in waiting to the queen with their white trains from the shoulders and arm bouquets of flowers.

These were Misses Cora Gray and Evelyn Boh, Beatrice Smith and Geraldine Calhoun, Alene Leticia and Jaunita Benigno.

Maid of Honor—Isabel Combe. Crowning of the Queen—By Virginia Brittenham.

The crown was carried by little Myrtle Kergosien, the sceptre by Master Jules Menou. The queen's train was carried by little Luraine Quintino and Tessey Menou.

The queen, Leonore Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Gilbert, looked lovely on her throne and bore her honors well and in every way the affair was a success, socially and financially, with the help of the Sisters.

It is understood the handsome sum of $235.00 was realized, which was far beyond the most sanguine expectation. The money will be appropriated to a fund known as the building fund, not for additional buildings on the convent grounds, but to ameliorate, to take care of those already there in need of considerable attention.

AN OMISSION CORRECTED.

In the write-up of the closing exercises of St. Stanislaus College day school, which appeared in The Echo last week, the following was omitted, and is published in justice to those concerned:

The artistic gold medal for faithfulness, the gift of Mrs. Gus E. Temple, of the Bay Jewelry Store, of Bay St. Louis, drawn for by Masters Robert Basford, Leroy Strong, Lawrence Luc, Orest Laurent, Sheldon Senzeneaux, Edward Blaize, Joseph Michel and Francis Hobbs, was won by Master Joseph Michel.

TO ORGANIZE A CLUB.

Mr. Business Man and Mr. Professional Man, The Echo has been requested to invite you through this medium. At the Bay-Waveland Club next Thursday night.

The meeting adjourned to next Tuesday night at the same place, when and where it is expected representatives of the Gulfport Rotarians will be present to address the local business and professional representatives.

There is a strong predilection for organizing the Kiwanis Club in Bay St. Louis unless the Rotary leaders can "come strong" and show to the contrary at the assembly next week.

GULFPORT KIWANIS HEADS SPEAK TO BAY MEN OF BUSINESS

Assembly at Bay-Waveland Club Auditorium Thursday Night Listen to President J. L. Taylor, Secretary George E. McCaskey and Others, in Interest of Organizing Kiwanis Club for the Bay City—Visitors Bring Good Message of Cheer and Fellowship.

GEO. R. REA CHAIRMAN AND JNO. OSOINACH SECRETARY.

Representatives of Rotarians to Address Gathering at Same Place Next Thursday Night—Both Organizations To Be Heard From Before Local Organization Is Affected—Kiwanians Have Many Features That Bay City Leaders Are Impressed With.

Prominent visitors from Gulfport, representing the Kiwanis Club of that city, were entertained by Bay City business representatives Thursday night at the auditorium of the Bay-Waveland Club, through the courtesy of that organization. The purpose of the visitors of the Gulfportians was to tell the Bay St. Louisians all about the Kiwanis Club. What it stands for, what it is accomplishing and what it means. There was indeed much to tell, and it was plain that an organization of that kind in Bay St. Louis would not only find much room for its activities but would accomplish much. In fact, it appears to be a long-felt want, and the hope is here expressed that it will be filled.

The Gulfport party was made up of Hon. J. L. Taylor, president; George E. McCaskey, secretary, and R. L. Aubert, George Poole and Sidney Prague, all blue-blooded Kiwanians. Each gentleman, on invitation, addressed the meeting and each had an interesting and inspiring message.

George R. Rea was chairman of the meeting and John Osoinach secretary, two indefatigable workers for Bay St. Louis first, last and all the time.

The Kiwanis Club is strictly a civic organization, with a big social side to it. Two representatives from every line of business is represented in the organization. There is no limit for its scope of work. The meetings are not held at night, but once a week—from 12:05 to 1:05, on the occasion of luncheon.

In Bay St. Louis it was stated that the luncheon could be held at a different place every week. At a restaurant, hotel and so on. While at table the different matters are proposed and adopted and the secretary works the suggestions and adoptions out later.

The meeting adjourned to next Tuesday night at the same place, when and where it is expected representatives of the Gulfport Rotarians will be present to address the local business and professional representatives.

There is a strong predilection for organizing the Kiwanis Club in Bay St. Louis unless the Rotary leaders can "come strong" and show to the contrary at the assembly next week.

Still another thing that indicates a return to the good old days is that wrist watches are becoming fewer.

It might also be a good idea to remind mothers that if more of them were strappers there'd be fewer flappers.

One objection some fellows seem to have to working is that there are too many other things to do.

We overheard a Bay St. Louis woman say a few days ago that the men who would make perfect husbands always remain single.

They've got daylight saving in Washington now, and Congress can start loafing an hour earlier.

Methusalem lived to be over 900 years old—but he never had to spend half his time dodging autos.

Some men seem to think that a friend is always the fellow who cusses the same men they do.

The way the politicians are throwing their hats in the ring they don't seem to care much what happens to hats.

We have always noticed that the man who was driven to drink was going that way anyhow.

Along about this time of year the citizen who owns a lawn mower starts in trying to remember which one of his neighbors borrowed it last.

You can't improve a Ford machine by trying to cross it with a locomotive.

One big puzzle is why they ever called the cat and dog fight at Gebo a "economy conference."

No woman is as old as she looks to herself when her hair is done up in curl papers.

Wouldn't it be awful if the young girls now growing up didn't have any more sense than we think they have?

It's pretty hard to make the average editor believe that even in heaven a paper can print the truth without fear of losing a few subscribers.

Some of these days grandfathers can entertain the children by telling them that once upon a time they saw a runaway horse.

If all the people were as good as some people think they are, there would be an awful shortage of angels in heaven.

NEGLECTED GRAVES.

In a little trip out over the country recently we noticed a number of rural cemeteries that are not receiving the care and attention they are entitled to. Fences were not in the best of repair, and gravestones, in many instances, were not in their proper positions.

We feel sure that people around Bay St. Louis honor and respect their dead fully as much as the people of any other section. They know, too, that the least they can do for those who have gone on before is to see that their last resting place is kept green and free of weeds and briars and tangled vines. You can't make us believe that our people are the kind who forget their loved ones just as soon as they are back from the cemetery. And that is why it is surprising to note that in some instances graves in the rural cemeteries are not getting proper attention.

In some cases relatives of the departed have moved away, and cannot give the graves personal attention. But there should be enough pride left in those who are here, and who have loved ones buried in the same cemetery, to see that the entire burying ground is looked after.

The season of weeds and underbrush and briars is now upon us again. It means that a few hours with the scythe or lawn mower now will save whole days of work later on. So why wouldn't it be a good idea for the citizens of each community to set aside a certain day upon which they could assemble at their nearest burying ground and put it in proper shape for the remainder of the spring and summer months?

NEW CITIZENS.

Throughout this season high schools everywhere are graduating girls and boys—turning out future citizens. It is a great event for them, and for all, for this is the young blood which a few years hence will be carrying on in all our social and business activities.

We sometimes feel that nothing so inspires one with the wish that everything in the world might be good, that success might be universal, that the road to honor and respect might be straight and smooth, as to see these girls and boys at the threshold of their careers. They have ideals which have not been soiled by the realities of life; their heads are in the clouds; the world invites them to conquest, and they are unafraid. It is an inspiring spectacle, and for the moment it routs the cynicism which failures and disappointments have bred in us older ones.

But there is one little thing we'd like to call to the attention of every Bay St. Louis boy and girl starting into life, those who are just leaving school. And that is the value of remembering that there isn't any more to be taken out of the world than you put in it. Each year finds the struggle for success growing more difficult, and it is the men and women who do things for the community in which they live who receive in return the best that community has to give. You are going to get out of the world just in proportion to what you put into it. And the sooner you start giving it the best there is in you, that much sooner will the best that is in others be given to you.

TRAIL FAKES.

We want to warn citizens of Bay St. Louis and community to steer clear of trail fakes, or in other words that new class of grafters who are now going about the country starting—always on paper—new highways with high-sounding names. Legitimate road building and road improvement is taking enough of the taxpayers' money now without some grafter coming along to further dent the pocketbook and fatten his private funds by collecting subscriptions for a "Yankee Doodle Highway," or some other high-falutin' name. The public has responded liberally to the call for road funds, and all over the land actual improvement is being made. But we should not be expected to encourage these organizations which are springing up all over the country to boost some particular project which, in the end, benefits mostly those who originated the scheme. There are said to be over 200 of these organizations in the United States, so it is going to be a pretty difficult matter to select the false from the true. The safest way will be to investigate for yourself every association that comes forward with a claim for your financial support.

THE RURAL JITNEY.

Stock in traction lines and electrical roads is fast becoming a drug on the market. All over the country the "rural jitneys" are coming into use, motor bus lines which travel country roads and do a passenger business. They run regular and frequent schedule, they stop and take on or let off passengers at any point, regardless of regular "stations," and they have the advantage of not having to stick to one track if the occasion demands getting to a certain place. They can take a side road, or go over another route altogether. We're going to get them in Bay St. Louis just as sure as fate, and we are going to feel the benefit of such travel. They have been operated long enough to prove their success, and also to prove they are beneficial to the public. The rural jitney is striking a death blow to the electric lines of the country, and they are likewise serving as a mighty good argument for lower passenger fares on railroads. For that reason it looks like a pretty good idea to encourage them to keep on spreading out until every section of the country is covered.

THIS MAN KNOWS.

Speaking before a convention of newspaper men not long ago, Hon. A. P. Sandies, for years head of the Ohio State Fair Association, said:

"The country editor has never made a million dollars. As a rule, he makes more donations to the community than any other half-dozen folks. A town is always on the map if it has a real, live weekly paper to make a noise, advertise its merchants and make people think. The rural paper is a power that is recognized by the political boss more than it is recognized by the home folks or even the home merchant. The clubs, the lodges and social events, all want space in the home paper, whether the subscription price is paid or not. The profit in a country paper is often the money that is credited on the books of the editors and never collected. The good editor is so busy getting out his paper and doing his work that he does not have time to collect. Everybody ought to take the home paper, so they will have a place for their funeral notice and so they will be sure of getting one their folks won't be ashamed of. Go around and subscribe now—and pay for it in advance."

THE STATE'S LAND SUITS.

From the Hattiesburg American.
The various suits which have been and are being filed on behalf of the State involving the title to lands sold by the State are provoking considerable public interest and comment; and, while the issues presented are for the courts to determine, it is deemed proper to state in general terms the facts involved in this litigation.

There are three general branches of this litigation. One branch of it involves certain of the swamp lands. This land was sold by the State some sixty or seventy years ago. The land was sold at the price and through the public officials named in the land and the State issued and delivered its patents therefor accordingly. The patentees and those holding under them (the lands in some cases passing through many innocent hands for value) have been claiming the said land and paying taxes on it since the said sale by the State. The State's only point of attack on these titles is the claim that the lands were sold and conveyed as being on or near Pearl River, or under a law which authorized the sale of lands on or near Pearl River, while as a matter of fact the lands are not on or near Pearl River. The State got the price fixed by law and its public officials, then entrusted with the sale of the lands and acting for it, interpreted the law as embracing the lands. This interpretation was acquiesced in by the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the State until the filing of the recent suits. The State, after a period of sixty or seventy years, has discovered, or thinks it has discovered, a new meaning of the terms "on" or "near" Pearl River. The makers, the framers of these terms and those succeeding with them through a period of more than sixty years attached no such meaning to them as the State now proposes and must maintain to have any standing in a court of justice.

Another branch of this litigation involves some of the college lands. These lands were granted by the government to the State for the use of the A. and M. and Alcorn A. and M. Colleges. The State Legislature passed an act in 1898 accepting the grant and providing for the sale of the land by the trustees of the colleges respectively, and for the issuance of patents on behalf of the State by the Governor, Land Commissioner and Secretary of State for the lands so sold. The lands were sold and patented by the State as thus provided more than twenty years ago. This land in many instances passed through various innocent hands for value. The State recognized the ownership of the patentees and those holding under them and collected taxes on the land until the recent filing of said suits.

The State's attack of these titles is based on the claim that the lands should have been sold under the code chapter entitled "Land Office" and not under the Act of 1898. The code chapter dealt with State lands generally and authorized their sale at $1.25 per acre, or at such other price as might be fixed by designated officials, in small quantities, while the college lands sold under the said law providing for their sale at several times that amount.

The other branch of this litigation involves timber on Sixteenth Section School Lands. The Legislature passed a law in 1898 authorizing Boards of Supervisors to sell the merchantable pine timber on these sections within their respective counties. This act was amended from time to time. It did not limit the Boards as to the time to be granted for removing the timber. The Boards sold the timber under this law and usually granted fifteen or twenty years in which to remove it. The State's ground of attack on these sales is based on the claim that not exceeding ten years could be granted under the Constitution in which to remove the timber. The Constitution says nothing of timber and we are informed that the Supreme Court has held that the Constitution does not apply to a sale of timber on a Sixteenth Section but deals with leases on the land.

The State in every instance is seeking to recover in the teeth of its own solemn contract. State patents were issued for the swamp lands and for the college lands as provided by the laws in force at the time of the transactions, and Boards of Supervisors, acting for the State, executed deeds for the timber on the Sixteenth Sections, all such patents and deeds being solemn contracts of the State. The State is proceeding on the theory that, while it conveyed the land and received the price, nevertheless there is some fatal infirmity in the transactions which justifies it in retaining the price and at the same time recovering the property sold in exchange for the price. This brings us to the question "Can the State Do Any Wrong?"

Rev. L. E. Hall, of this city, in the course of an article in Vardaman's Weekly of December 15, 1921, says some striking things on this subject. He can define with a nicety and clearness that few can equal when it comes to dealing with questions of public morals and public justice and of fair dealings as regard property rights, and we therefore quote from the article referred to as follows:

"The State has taken advantage of the sentiment against corporations, in order to extort from them large sums of money. It has profited by mistakes that were made by its own representatives, from twenty to fifty years ago. Business transactions in which everything was done in good faith have been repudiated, and innocent parties have been made the victims of the State's own blunder, if there was any. This is not a plea for wealth or corporations. It is a plea for common justice. The honest people of Mississippi do not want money obtained by any such methods. They know that such will drive away the industrial institutions they have, on which their country's prosperity depends, and will keep others from coming. Where corporations violate the plain laws of the State, they ought to be made to pay for it, and this whether the amount is one dollar or one million dollars, but this is quite a different thing for the shameful attitude of a great commonwealth going back on its own authorized transactions, in order to profit by its own mistakes. A party told me recently that the object of the law which gives a large per cent of amounts collected in the above manner, to the State's revenue agent, was to give him a chance to collect so much, until the corporations would not pay him enough to justify him in selling them out. Good Lord, what an idea! It reminds me of a foolish little thing that occurred a great many years ago. I was at the home of a man who had two little daughters. He called one of them Mol, and the other Sal. While I was there he cut a watermelon, which proved to be green. He asked me if I would have some. I told him no. He and Mol and Sal divided it. I asked him if he was not afraid to eat it. He said he was eating it to keep Mol and Sal from eating it. The State of Mississippi is afraid that the corporations will use an opportunity to gulp down a lot of graft, and in order to prevent it, prefers to swallow it down its own pious throat. I want to say, for every honest man and woman in the State of Mississippi, excuse us, please, we don't want any of that green melon. I want to say that it won't set well on the stomach of the State."

We answer that there is nothing in the Constitution, laws, customs or public policy of the State of Mississippi which authorizes the infliction of wrong by the State on any individual or corporation. THE STATE CAN LEGALLY DO NO WRONG. We have the utmost faith in the honor and integrity of our courts and have no doubt but that they will continue to uphold the dignity and integrity of the State in the future as they have done in the past.

A PSALM OF LIFE.

(With apologies to Longfellow.)
Tell me not in mournful tones
Advancing to a dreary close,
For the business man who
Has no chance to skim the cream.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
Competition something fierce;
If for dividends thou yearnest,
Learn the parry, thrust the tierce.

In the business field of battle,
Mollycoddles have no place;
Be not like dumb driven cattle,
Be a live one in the race.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can bring the bacon home,
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on another's dome.

Let us then be up and doing,
Others we may be done,
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Advent'ring and get the "mon."

ATMOSPHERE.

Going to college is much for the reason that you want to get what the dame from Boston calls "Intellectual Atmosphere." Now, Rebecca, if you can't get on the inside thereof, the next best place for inhaling the fore-said "atmos" is sittin' outside on the CURB. Of course, bo, you gotta curb your feelings an' also your gentle voice—but with the moon ashinin' an' everybody concurrin' its one more concrete seat.

We was talkin' to a guy an' mentioned the said curb seat, when the friend remarked: "Why, Fuller, that's whaps called the Matrimonial Curb Market, them' Janes are after PERMANENT atmosphere!"

Some people what break in on the front page with their "cut" sure don't do it to beautify the paper. We vizzed one "Angel Face" in the mornin' edition, lately what wins the cement job for looks.

The gent is on the job shoppin' fraud—or, somethin' up Washington way, an' we know somethin's bound to stop if its only a clock.

Them law-makers over in our sister State have just 'bout K. O. ed the ponies—for good an' all. The "sucker" crop was bountiful last season an' they ain't no use tryin' to curb 'em—they're still bein' born one per minute, like old P. T. said, an' if they ain't got the ponies they'll nip onto somethin' else.

* * * * *
By the time the chief eng. of the Linotype gets thru cussin' this column we are goin' to have old friend Foster Commagere back with us—for all of which we are GLAD. Them birds from the House of Brains are goin' to hand the old coach a dose of happy-ton next Sunday by trimmin' them basebal visitors out at the happy hittin' grounds.

PAUL AND PAT ON THE JOB AT WASHINGTON.

Secure Relief For Family of W. L. Dunham, of Richton, Who Was Killed While in Discharge of Duty.

Special to The Sea Coast Echo. Washington, D. C., May 31.—Relief for the family of the late W. L. Dunham, of Richton, Miss., has been secured in Congress through the efforts of Representative Paul B. Johnson, of the Sixth Mississippi Congressional District, and Senator Pat Harrison.

"Congressman Johnson introduced a bill February 21 to authorize the payment of $1,500 to the estate of Mr. Dunham, and the money will be available as soon as the State Department appropriation bill is signed by the President.

Mr. Dunham was killed while in the discharge of his duty as a policeman under the Federal prohibition enforcement officer for the Southern District of Mississippi, Jacob Green, who was also killed in the raid upon an illicit still near Richton, in Perry county.

Mr. Dunham was survived by widow and six small children. Congressman Johnson interested himself in the case and as a result of his activity in the House, and the co-operation of Senator Harrison in the Senate, the appropriation of $1,500 has been made by Congress for the relief of the Dunham family.

The Dunham-Green tragedy had shocked the entire State of Mississippi and attracted nation-wide attention. One of the convicted men, Maney Kelly, committed suicide in jail at Leakeville a short time before he was to be hanged, while the State Supreme Court recently affirmed the death sentence of Henry Bond, another illicit distiller charged with the murder of the officers.

NEW ORLEANS GETS BAPTIST HOSPITAL.

The Southern Baptist convention Saturday night voted in favor of establishing a district hospital in New Orleans, according to Associated Press dispatches from Jacksonville, Fla. The home mission board was instructed to build the hospital under provision that actual work may not be started for two years, unless the board's finances justify beginning before then.

At the annual convention in Washington two years ago, New Orleans was granted the hospital, subject to approval, if the site was donated by that city. This was reaffirmed at last year's convention in Chattanooga. A site for the proposed hospital was purchased at Napoleon avenue and Magnolia street, in New Orleans, which has been approved officially.

The fight to win the Baptist hospital for New Orleans was launched at this year's convention by Dr. F. S. Groner, of Dallas, secretary of missions in Texas and secretary of the Southern Baptist convention. The New Orleans committee, which also advocated New Orleans' claim at the

HARRISON FRANKLY SAYS DEMOCRATS ARE TO REGAIN LEAD

Majority in Next Congress and Election of President Foreseen By Mississippi Senator.

Wilmington, N. C., May 30.—With the assertions that the Republican party is without a leader, that it has failed to keep its promises made in the late presidential election, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, speaking at a luncheon tendered him here today by the Chamber of Commerce, predicted that the next Congress will have a Democratic majority and that President Harding will be succeeded by a Democrat at the end of his present term.

Senator Harrison was the principal speaker at memorial exercises held here today in memory of New Hanover county men who paid the supreme sacrifice in the World War. In connection with the memorial exercises a monument to the World War dead of the country was unveiled and dedicated.

Senator Harrison's memorial address was free of politics, but in a talk to businessmen, made at a luncheon, he discussed political issues of the day.

The Republicans have fallen down badly, the senator stated. That which the Republican Congress has done has been all wrong, he said, while it has left undone those things which are most needed and should have been the first to be disposed of.

"The passage of certain tax bills, the seating of Senator Newberry and the pending 'iniquitous' tariff measures are some of the things which Senator Harrison declared have had much to do with getting the Republicans in bad with the people and causing dissatisfaction throughout the country. He said that the Republicans would have to give up a strict account for these in the November election and predicted a majority for the Democrats.

"I do not believe there is a Republican here," the senator said, "and I want to tell you that there are many less of them now than there were at the last election.

"A few Democrats supported Harding, but they know better now," he said. "They have seen the error of their way from the party that stands for all the people."

In his memorial address, Senator Harrison paid a tribute to former President Woodrow Wilson. Nothing he said brought such an outburst as reference to Mr. Wilson, whose childhood home was in Wilmington. "Woodrow Wilson was the greatest pilot who ever guided the ship of State," the speaker stated, adding that Mr. Wilson is as much a wounded soldier as any veteran now in the government hospitals."

JUDGE GEO. S. DODDS ASSERTS CANDIDACY FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

Gulfport, Miss., May 30, 1922. Editor Sea Coast Echo:

Having been importuned by professional men and laymen in different lines of business from all parts of the district to do so, I have decided to yield to their wishes and become a candidate for the Circuit Judgeship of this district. This is, therefore, to authorize you to announce me as a candidate for the nomination to be made by the Democratic electors of the district at the August primary election.

I shall make a dignified canvass of the different counties of the district, and if the people see fit to give me their support, and I should be nominated and elected to the circuit judgeship, I shall perform the duties of that high position with an eye single to the best interests of the entire people of the district, with no thought of courting popularity or favor with any particular class or body of individuals, but in the performance of the duties of that office I will know neither friend nor enemy, but will be guided by the law and by the highest principles of right and justice.

The circuit judgeship, in my judgment, affords the greatest opportunity to subserve and advance the best interest and prosperity of the community of any position within the gift of the people of the State, and should be filled by a man with not only legal training and ability but of executive force such as will command the respect not only of the bar of the district, but of all parties having causes to be determined in said court.

Everyone will want to see "The Sheikh's Wife," Saturday night. You enjoyed "The Sheikh," and you will enjoy the Vitaphone's latest special.

DRIVES GRIMLY TO DEATH TO SAVE WOMAN.

One of the most thrilling incidents ever screened is that showing a man of wealth driving his motor car over an embankment fifty feet high, resulting not only in his own death, but also that of the man accompanying him. This is only one scene of many almost as striking which make up the Cosmopolitan production of "The Wild Goose," released by Paramount, which will be shown at the A. & G. Theatre for one night, Monday, June 5th.

The story deals with the love triangle treated from a new and novel standpoint. Diana Manners is the wife of an architect and she becomes infatuated with another man. When Hastings, who is Manners' friend, learns that his own wife secretly loves Manners, and that the latter's wife has eloped with the other man, he follows them in his motor car and after forcing the man into his automobile, he deliberately drives over the cliff, thereby serving a double purpose—to give his wife freedom from him and to save the honor of his friend.

Mary MacLagan plays the part of the romantic minded Diana, while Holmes E. Herbert is seen as the husband. Joseph Smiley has the role of Hastings, who brings peace to all concerned by slaying himself and the rouser who has been the cause of trouble. Dorothy Bernard has a delightful role and Norman Kerry, a popular player, is seen as the heavy. The picture is based on Gouverneur Morris' story of "The Wild Goose," the sale of which in novel form was enormous.

LILLIAN WALKER—SHE OF THE DIMPLES!

Talented Actress Has Strong Role in "The Woman God Changed."

Lillian Walker of the adorable dimples, welcome! Will she have film fans forget that she was born in Brooklyn, loves to cook, and takes walks in the park, purposely to stop all the nurse girls with charming baby carriages for a peep at the chubby little inmates?

Well, one can not say that such a Lillian is the one who presents herself as the maelstrom of passion in the new Paramount-Cosmopolitan picture, "The Woman God Changed," which comes to the A. & G. Theatre next Wednesday, June 7th.

"And did you like the part?" she was asked when the picture was finished.

"Why, yes, I've been on the screen for seven years, you know, and I never fail to get a thrill out of each part. But, my ambition, the great moment of my dreams, is soon to be realized when I am starred in a big Broadway production especially written for me."

Miss Walker has an excellent role in "The Woman God Changed." Seena Owen and E. K. Lincoln play the leading parts in the story written by Donn Byrne and produced by Robert G. Vignola.

HARD WORK IS PRICE OF SUCCESS, SAYS SEENA OWEN.

Leading Woman of "The Woman God Changed" Tells How She Made First Hit.

A wide-eyed, winsome blond girl faced D. W. Griffith not so long ago, and asked for a try-out on the screen. "Oh, you'll never do for the screen," that director said, "you are too calm and have no emotions apparently."

"Well, Mr. Griffith," answered Seena Owen, bravely, "if you think I'm calm you just ought to see the way my heart's fluttering, for I am scared to death you won't take me." And that was the winning card, for it was ample evidence of her acting quality. This same quality has been developed consistently in each of that pretty young woman's screen appearances, until it has reached its zenith in her latest undertaking, the leading role of Cosmopolitan's new production, "The Woman God Changed," which will be shown at the A. & G. Theatre next Wednesday.

"Of course, there are many ways to get on the screen," said Miss Owen one morning in the studio floor, still breathless from the exertion of one of her big scenes, "but there is only one way to stay. I mean hard work, mental and physical. Work while you're on the set, whether in a small part or on extra role. Watch your director. Study his every purpose. When you're not in the scene, don't go off for a nap or a bite to eat, but sit as close as possible and keep your eyes and ears open and your brain operating. There is always more, and yet more, to be learned about the film game for everyone in it."

E. K. Lincoln, a well known player, is leading man in "The Woman God Changed." The support is excellent.

HARDSHIPS OF DESERT ENDURED BY ACTORS.

Players Live on Palm Pitt and Dates For Days—Here Thursday Night.

One of the most interesting facts about "The Sheikh's Wife," the big Vitaphone special production, which will be shown at the A. & G. Theatre on Wednesday, June 6th, is that the whole picture was made in Arabia. To accomplish this, the actors had to undergo many hardships. Several extensive trips by caravan into the interior of the desert were necessary. A base camp was established at a large oasis and it was as a starting point, many short location trips lasting anywhere from one to three days were made to secure especially beautiful bits of desert scenery. When it is borne in mind that when the sun shines, the temperature in Arabia rarely goes below the 100 mark, it can be readily seen how much suffering the actors endured to make this spectacular photoplay. Many times the hungry players were forced to eat dates and palm pith when they left camp to make these desert scenes. All in all, however, there were few casualties. Two of the minor players suffered sunstroke and another actor was bitten by a scorpion. The two principals, Marcel Vibre who appears as the sheik, Hadji Ben Khedim, and Emmy Lynn, who plays the part of his European wife, both came through the grueling ordeal in safety, having suffered nothing more serious than a severe sunburn.

"The Sheikh's Wife" has proved worth the time, expense and trouble expended in making it. Henry Rousseau, one of the best-known directors in France, had charge of the production. He has made it a masterpiece in every respect. The bare, treeless hills of the desert, the endless sandy plains and the palm-studded oases lend a colorful atmosphere to this picture which could not be duplicated anywhere in the world.

"The Sheikh's Wife" tells the story of a romantic young English girl who marries a son of the desert, a follower of the prophet, Mohammed. When circumstances force him to take a second wife, she has to make a fight for her happiness. This production is for next Thursday.

Photoplay Novelty To Open a Run in Bay St. Louis.

A distinct photoplay novelty is promised in "Footfalls," the William Fox super-special which will begin a run at the A. & G. Theatre next Saturday. New York reviewers and audiences hailed the production as a notable motion picture achievement.

Those who have read the story of "Footfalls" by Wilbur Daniel Steele, which was awarded first prize as the best short story published in America in 1920, by the O. Henry Committee of the Society of Arts and Sciences, will wonder how it could be presented faithfully as a picture play, for the central idea hinges upon sound and hearing. It is said, however, that William Fox and Director Charles S. Brabin, by means of a number of ingenious devices, have achieved a sort of screen miracle in this regard, giving a vivid impression of the sound and hearing of footfalls throughout.

"Footfalls" is declared to be a gripping and thrilling mystery photoplay, a cinedrama of an entirely new type. It deals with the experiences of a blind cobbler in a little New England fishing village. Hiram Scudder developed an extremely acute sense of hearing and a faculty which enables him not only to recognize any resident of the village by the sound of his or her footfalls, but to sense the state of mind of his intimates in the same way. The footfalls the blind man listens for most earnestly are those of an assassin whom he feels sure will return some day to the scene of his crime.

The cast includes Tyrone Power in the role of the blind cobbler, Estelle Taylor, Tom Douglas and Gladden James.

Birthday and Graduation Gifts
at The Specialty Store.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Maloney have been spending the latter part of the week in New Orleans, visiting relatives and friends.

Misses Blaize have been entertaining their friend, Miss Knost, of Pass Christian, at their parents' home in Washington street.

Mrs. John Osolnach and daughter, Miss Cleo Osolnach, will shortly leave by steamer for a trip to New York City and before returning home will visit other points East.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Osolnach and family were visitors to New Orleans during the early part of the week, going over to visit the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. King.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leonard and their nephews, Masters A. J. Leonard and Charles A. Breath, Jr., leave Monday week for a most wonderful trip West, including the Pacific coast and the Yellow Stone Park region returning home.

Mr. Alfred J. de Montluzin has returned from his annual spring visit to New Orleans, where he spent a while. While the members of his home are away on a trip he is stopping at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. H. S. Lewis, at the new home on the beach front.

Mr. and Mrs. R. de Montluzin and Master Rene de Montluzin left New Orleans today for a trip to Los Angeles, San Francisco and other points along the Pacific coast, returning home by way of Salt Lake City and Denver, Colorado. They are members of the Shriner special from Meridian, and will be gone a month.

A complete line of infants' silk embroidered booties and jackets at The Specialty Store.

Miss Amelia Lucas, who is attending the Dominican College, at New Orleans, is home for the week end. Her house guests, from the college, are Misses Violet Chauvin, Abbeville, La.; Trixie Lyons, of Crowley, La.; and Beatrice Wilkinson, of New Orleans.

The Echo regrets to note the serious illness of John A. Green, local railroad representative, who has been confined to his room for the past week. Later reports are that he is considerably improved and on the road to recovery. This will be good news to the many friends of the family.

Judge Griffith adjourned Chancery Court for Hancock county on Thursday evening insofar as he is concerned in the deliberations of that tribunal. Session is being held today, in which Judge Barney Eaton, of Gulfport, is presiding. Judge Griffith being debarred by reason of his interest and knowledge in the cause to be tried.

The graduation class of St. Joseph's Academy has issued invitations to the annual commencement exercises, which will take place on the evening of June 17th. Class '22 is composed of Misses Julia Marie Blaize, Leonide Myrie Perre, Grace Louise Glennon (of Mobile), Agnes Marie Dillman, Thelma Esther Zimmerman, Edwige Louise Eagan, all of Bay St. Louis. Exercises will be held during the evening hours at College Auditorium.

Mr. C. E. Temple, the wide-awake and progressive proprietor of the Bay Jewelry Store, has returned from a very interesting sea voyage. From New Orleans he visited Cuba, where he spent a while, thence to New York, back to Cuba and then home by way of New Orleans. Mr. Temple met many prominent people while in Havana and was received with special attention not only as an American citizen but as a young successful business man. Needless to say, he had a most interesting trip.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Franz hurriedly left the Bay Tuesday evening for New Orleans, where Mrs. Franz underwent an operation Wednesday morning, performed by Dr. Louis Levy. The operation proved a success. Mrs. Franz is now resting quietly and Dr. Levy expects an early recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Franz reside in St. Charles street and are among our most estimable citizens. It will be learned with interest the operation was a success and that the patient will soon recover and be back again in the bosom of home and friends.

Contrary to popular belief, there will be no dance at the Bay-Waveland Club tonight. True it had been planned to give one, but unable to procure the services of a band in Bay St. Louis, precludes its giving. However, the club has a number of affairs in the embryo and these will take place in due time. Your membership will admit you to all of these. Several stage entertainments for members only in the immediate future. Better send your application for membership today.

A wedding of local interest was celebrated in New Orleans Thursday morning at St. Stephen's Church, in Napoleon avenue, when Mr. Radcliffe Hawkins, with Clay & Gilbert, of New Orleans, and Miss Adrienne Muller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Muller, former residents of Bay St. Louis, were united in holy wedlock. The attendants were Miss Tillie Mitchell, maid of honor; Mr. Charles Muller, best man; The ring bearers were Master A. J. Brodtmann and Miss Bernice Douglas, nephew and niece of the bride. An informal reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Muller, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins left for Mandeville, La.

A force of men are building the concrete sidewalk on the L. & N. right of way, connecting the sidewalks of the Bay Hotel and the Merchants' Bank. The men are in charge of Jos. L. Gager, representing the company. The improvement is decided and welcomed by the townspeople generally. This job completed, the L. & N. will start the building of a turntable at the depot which will accommodate the largest locomotives and take care of demands that cannot be met with at present. The structure will be of a very fine type and will also represent quite an outlay of money.

The Bay Hotel (formerly the Pickwick) has an advertisement in this issue of The Echo calling attention to the fact that meals are served at the hotel to those who may wish to only patronize the dining room, for one meal or more. If the cook fails to show up, take dinner at the Bay Hotel; if you are in from the country and spending the day at the county seat, take dinner at the Bay Hotel. The best of dinner at popular prices. Manager Babcock wishes to popularize the dining room feature at the hotel. He wishes home people and all visitors to frequent it. The menu is of the best.

As will be noted by display advertisement on front page of this week's Echo, the Beach Drug Store added a new specialty to its refreshment department, "Priscilla" ice cream. This is a delicious new feature in the line of refreshments. Try Priscilla cream once, and you'll order it all the time. It can only be had at the Beach Drug Store. Try it for your next order. Ask for Priscilla cream.

While the Bay Hotel is opened to the reception of guests and running full blast, it is planned to give an opening dance at the hotel parlors in the immediate future. Manager Babcock says possibly next Saturday night or a week later than necessary. It is planned to make the hotel a special center of the town, a meeting place for visitors and townspeople.

BOOST YOUR HOME BY KEEPING THE MONEY YOU SPEND THERE.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., June 2, 1922.
Editor Sea Coast Echo:

I know a man who never buys a thing at home which he can get from a mail order house. For the sake of saving a few dollars, and sometimes only a few cents, he passes up his next-door neighbor, or across-the-street friend and goes elsewhere to trade. The peculiar thing about this man is that he has no home. Every few years he becomes thoroughly disgusted with the community he is in, picks up and moves on. But, needless to say, he does not make friends in the new place, and when he himself has anything to sell people around him are not particularly interested.

You might also know the man who has two thousand miles away from home and had the toothache. A gentleman recommended a certain kind of toothache medicine, and when he presented him with the vial, the patient said: "Why that's from my home town. I know the doctor who puts it up very well; in fact, he is my neighbor. It's no good."

Only too many people are imbued with these ideas, and where they prevail no civic development and advancement can be found. Is it not far better when you need any merchandise or services to patronize one of the home folks who abides by the ethics of his business and maintains a standard fair price, rather than to run to the cut-rate away from home, Levy. The operation proved a success. Mrs. Franz is now resting quietly and Dr. Levy expects an early recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Franz reside in St. Charles street and are among our most estimable citizens. It will be learned with interest the operation was a success and that the patient will soon recover and be back again in the bosom of home and friends.

HIBERNIA BANK OF GENIN SEEKS PEARL RIVER AGREEMENT NEW ORLEANS PLAYS RIVER S. S. COL. TWO DAYS STATE OF LOUISIANA

Famous Bank Ball Swirlers Play on Local Diamond Today and Tomorrow.

Two banner games are scheduled for this week-end when the crack St. Stanislaus college team will clash with the strong Hibernia Bank team of New Orleans in a two-game series. The first game will be played this Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and the second contest Sunday at 2:30 o'clock.

The Hibernians have been playing a star brand of baseball this season and are leading the Bankers' League race with a clean slate. The Hibernians have been practicing hard for the past week and are confident of defeating the Saints and reversing a victory the Bay boys gained over them earlier in the season. However, Prother Peter has his college boys on edge and indications are that the two games will be the best played here this year.

The Stanislaus team has played many games this season and has played well. Nearly every defeat they have suffered was by a one-run margin.

A special train of seven coaches came out from New Orleans bearing the Hibernians and their friends, accompanied by a band of music. Their headquarters for the two days are at Camp Overland. There will be an informal dance there tonight.

CHAUTAUQUA ENTERTAINMENT NEXT WEEK.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Nights and Afternoons at Woodmen Hall—Fourteen Numbers To Be Presented.

For the good and uplift of the community. That is the watchword. With this in view a committee of twenty-five gentlemen of Bay St. Louis will present the Redpath Chautauqua on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and nights of next week. The Chautauqua will include 14 numbers, and by the purchase of a season ticket each number will cost the auditor slightly over 14 cents.

Bay St. Louis will turn out to hear the Chautauqua. A season ticket costs $2.00 and $1.00 for children. Single admission price without season ticket will cost 50 cents; children, 25 cents.

The gentlemen who are sponsoring this entertainment for Bay St. Louis are entitled to the consideration of the community. They have banded themselves together and assumed a financial responsibility for your good, this is, if you are a very part of the community and share its advantages. The slogan for next week is: "Meet Me at the Chautauqua."

"FROM STOREHOUSE TO MARKET"

Did you know that from the sweet potato can be made four kinds of flour, a delicious syrup, four kinds of meal and more than a hundred other products.

The picture "From Storehouse to Market" will be shown at the A. & G. Theatre on June 5th. It was made by the United States Agricultural Department to show the methods of curing and storing sweet potatoes in curing houses which have been developed by the government and are resulting in an increased production.

One of the greatest hindrances to the profitable production and handling of the Southern sweet potato has been the difficulty of curing and storing it so that it would keep in a fit condition to market. This problem has been solved through the sweet potato curing houses which are now being built throughout the South and which are largely responsible for the interest in the sweet potato crop. The operation of the sweet potato curing houses consists in maintaining proper temperature and ventilation; the methods of doing which are shown. In order to get the best prices for the product, it has to be cured and classified, and how this is done is also shown. The methods of packing the potatoes and the types of crates and hampers used are illustrated; in fact, everything about the curing houses that is necessary to know.

The acreage planted to sweet potatoes in this State has increased in three years as follows: 1919, 98,000; 1920, 103,000; 1921, 105,000.

To show the opportunities in sweet potato culture, the Southern Railway and the Atlanta and West Point, Western of Alabama and Georgia Railroads and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, in conjunction with the Southern Bell and Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Companies, arranged with the Lynch Theatre to show this as one of a series of industrial and educational pictures. These pictures have proved a great attraction wherever shown and are rapidly taking their place among the leading educational agencies being conducted in the South.

—Do you ever dream? If so, hear Edward Tomkinson at the Chautauqua, first day.

Accompanied by J. C. Weston, of Logtown, Bay St. Louis Man Takes Trip to Baton Rouge.

Hon. Robt. L. Genin, attorney for the city of Bay St. Louis, and ex-member of the Louisiana Legislature, who has gotten more public benefits and improvements and appropriations from the State for this county and city, is up and doing again. He generally gets what he goes after, and this time will surely prove no exception.

Some time since, through his efforts when in the Mississippi Legislature, the State agreed with Louisiana to build a bridge across Pearl River, connecting Hancock county with St. Tammany parish, at the dividing line. The original survey was made at Pearlington, and later at Logtown, then at Gainesville and Napoleon, moving northward all the time and getting away from the original position. Although since then it has unanimously been agreed that recently Louisiana made a survey taking the bridge further up the river, and it was in the interest of preventing the bridge being built further north that Messrs. Genin and Weston went to Baton Rouge this week.

Mr. Genin was spokesman and told the Louisiana Highway Commission that the latest move was not agreeable to the people of this side of the river, and proceeded to show them 'why, and convinced them to this effect.

A telegram from Baton Rouge to the Times-Picayune Thursday follows, sustaining what has been said above. Mr. Genin is well informed and posted on highways and mobile roads, bridges, etc., acquainted with the legal and physical side of the project and along with Mr. Weston was admirably equipped to appear before the controlling body in the matter of the subject hereinabove and herein-after treated.

Baton Rouge, May 31.—Robert L. Genin, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and J. R. Weston, of Logtown, Miss., representing citizens of Hancock county, appeared before the Louisiana highway commission today to reach an agreement concerning the location of a bridge across Pearl River, the dividing line between Louisiana and Mississippi.

The legislatures of the two States passed acts in 1914 authorizing Hancock county and St. Tammany parish to join with each other in building the bridge. The first survey was to Pearlington and later other surveys were completed to Logtown, Napoleon and Gainesville. The three last surveys changed the location of the bridge each time to a point further north.

Recently it was reported that still another survey on the Louisiana side would place the bridge higher up Pearl River. To this citizens of Hancock county entered a protest. They objected to the last proposed location because it would make the highway too long and circuitous, and Messrs. Genin and Weston were appointed to confer with the Louisiana highway commission. They spent the day here and opened negotiations for a settlement of the controversy.

The bridge and section of highway affected is a part of the Spanish trail national highway that will connect New Orleans and the Gulf Coast.

HANCOCK COUNTY GIRL CAPTURES PRIZE.

Miss Etha Kergosien, Formerly of Fenton, Goes To Madison, Wis., For Course at University—Awarded Prize for Efficiency in Teaching—Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Kergosien.

Miss Etha Kergosien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Kergosien, formerly of Fenton, but now of Gulfport, returned home Saturday, after teaching a successful school term at Stephenson, Miss. After spending a month with her parents she is to leave for Madison, Wis., where she will take a six weeks' course at the University of that State. This course was given her by the Foster Creek Lumber Company, of Stephenson, for efficient work.

There being two schools located here, a young lady from Gloster, Miss., won the trip from the other school. The young ladies are to make the trip together, making it more enjoyable for both.

These young ladies are to be congratulated for their efficiency and close application to duty. May success follow them through life.
